STUDENTS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

Events for Students
The Graduate Student Committee has been working hard to plan exciting events for students at this year’s annual meeting in Baltimore, including 16 Student Roundtables, a Special Topics Forum discussion on present job market realities, the launch of the new Leadership Development Series, and a co-sponsored session between AAR, SBL, and The Wabash Center on new paradigms for teaching and learning. You can check out a full list of events and sessions for students at the annual meeting online.

Focus on Employment
This year the Employment Services Advisory Committee is expanding the events on employment to address topics such as alternative academic career opportunities, adjunct and contingent employment, reinventing your CV into a resume, career opportunities at two-year colleges, tips for finding academic employment, and more! The full list of employment events is available online.

Women’s Mentoring Luncheon
The Status of Women in the Profession Committee, Status of Racial and Ethnic Minorities in the Profession Committee, and the Women’s Caucus invite women who are graduate students and new scholars to a luncheon on Sunday, November 24, at the Annual Meeting. Registration is limited.

AAR THATCamp
If you are interested in how technology is changing—or can change—the work of religious studies scholars, then we invite you to attend the first ever THATCamp on Friday, November 22nd at the 2013 AAR Annual Meeting. Topics covered may include academic blogging, social media in the classroom, digital research methods, web-based class projects, and online publishing. THATCamp is free and open to everyone, but participants must register at http://aar2013.thatcamp.org.

Mobile App at the Meeting

Access the free Annual Meetings app! AAR and SBL introduce the use of Mobile Meeting Guide technology to provide members with a technically reliable, intuitive, and functional meeting solution.

Needed: Reporters at the Annual Meeting

Speaking of Students is looking for a few student volunteers who are willing to gather news at the annual meeting for the January issue. The commitment is minimal. All it requires is agreeing to attend one event, take some notes and write a few paragraphs. Pick an event that interests you—new orientation meeting, the mentoring lunch, one of Student Roundtables, a focus on employment session—or come up with your own idea for covering the academic and social experience of students in Baltimore. Those interested should contact elonda.clay@gmail.com.
